

The 2025 International Conference of the Korean Society of Contemporary European Studies (KSCES)

Europe and Asia in Encounter : Beyond Borders and Possibilities

CALL FOR PAPERS

June 23, 2025 (Mon)

Lisbon, Portugal / AUTÓNOMA University of Lisbon

June 26, 2025 (Thu)

Madrid, Spain / Francisco de Vitoria University

Since its establishment in 1994, the Korean Society of Contemporary European Studies (KSCES) has contributed to the advancement of Korean society through interdisciplinary research on various aspects of Europe. The KSCES has also served as a vital bridge connecting Korea with Europe, Asia, and the wider world through dynamic and diverse academic and cultural exchanges at both domestic and international levels.

In the current global landscape, Europe and other major nations are exposed to numerous variables, driving dynamic changes in the international community. These developments have significant implications for Korea's foreign relations.

Europe, as a collection of individual nations and as a regional entity encompassing the European Union (EU), has engaged in extensive exchanges with Korea while playing a pivotal role in international affairs. Europe's diverse cultures and historical trajectories continue to influence the global community and Korea alike. Furthermore, Europe's forward-looking initiatives present valuable opportunities for multidimensional cooperation, strengthening its role as a key partner for Korea.

In light of these dynamics, the Korean Society of Contemporary European Studies will host an international academic conference in collaboration with domestic and international academic institutions and embassies. The conference will take place on June 23, 2025, in Lisbon, Portugal, and June 26, 2025, in Madrid, Spain.

The theme of this year's conference is "Europe and Asia in Encounter: Beyond Borders and Possibilities"

We warmly encourage the participation of researchers and scholars, referencing the details provided below.
